

Gerri Gribi - Suggested Introduction

(Please feel free to use all, any or none of this)

A unique musician, historian and storyteller, {Jerry Gree - bee} has toured North America for over 25 years.

She made her first television appearance at the age of 13, and at 15, sang as one of the youngest members of the renowned Cincinnati May Festival Chorus.

She is a frequent guest on TV and radio, and her music has been featured in a variety of media outlets, including ABC Prime Time Live. She has lent her creative hand to numerous projects, including writing and performing music for the award-winning documentary "Poverty Shock: Anywoman's Story."

Her newest CD, "The Womansong Collection," has been widely and enthusiastically reviewed, both at home and abroad. She's been ranked among the Top Ten Artists by the National Women's Radio Play List.

With degrees in History and African American Studies, she has been published in academic journals such as Minerva as well as popular periodicals and newspapers. She maintains an award-winning website for anyone interested in women's studies, African American Studies, and folk music at CreativeFolk.com

This performance is sponsored by:

Please join me in giving a warm welcome to... {Jerry Gree- bee}